ARCHIVES OF OLD BELIEVERS COMMUNITIES OF THE MOLDOVAN AND FAR EASTERN DIOCESES: THE FATE AND CHARACTERISTICS OF THE CONTENTS

The article deals with two types of “old believers” archives, which consciously created in the old believers communities: 1) historically formed under the influence of the state Supervisory and reporting system (Council for religions and cults) and 2) formed by the initiative of the old believers leader. The archives of two eparchies of the Russian Orthodox old believer Church – Chisinau and all Moldova and far East – are given as examples. A brief review of the history of the settlement of the territories of the two dioceses by old believers is preceded by description of historical and archival characteristics of each archive.

Work with archives in old believers communities includes several main stages: the solution of technical problems of storage of documents, the development of a system of archival funds based on the array of available documents, then the solution of specific problems of archival systematization taking into account the specifics of the already formed archival cases and the needs of the community.

Also there is the anthropological tasks of archival work in the old believers environment. The archivist should be prepared to the rules
